"PSA: BLACK LIVES STILL NEED TO MATTER"
166.7K HITS

I musical reminder of the racial injustice we continue to face in America.

Through the pain of broken relationships, death of loved ones, and failed attempts to succeed, I've learned the power of perseverance. Coming from a family of entrepreneurs, I've been cultivated to envision and employ, all while digging my heels in alongside those who labor among me. Most importantly, through my faith in Jesus, I've discovered the insurmountable freedom of creative expression. I am able to communicate through art what's on the inside because He healed my vision of who I am. I am here to share all that God has taught me.
